

I do not support this proposal. The combining of RFI signals and Power Grid, adds to the current sources of RFI that the community has to deal with getting into consumer and amateur electronics. Its effect on the transmission and reception of Amateur Communication Spectrum presents potential barriers to the successful communication of data.

The concern over adequate control and regulation of RFI leakage leads the concerns for this protocol.